

The Colony on Callisto

As Coach Griffin watched Sara Marshall run, he pondered the end of the Earth. Such pondering these days was the preoccupation of almost every adult human on the planet. Very few were not haunted in their every waking moment by the prospect of that awful event. So begins this exciting, apocalyptic/post-apocalyptic novel. The year is 2036, and Earth faces imminent destruction. In a desperate attempt to preserve the human species, thirty-two people are launched toward Callisto, an icy moon of Jupiter. Their success is threatened not only by hasty preparations and extreme physical conditions but, also, by formidable foes - both within and without - who are bent on their destruction. Sara Marshall - university professor, world-class athlete, and expert martial artist - is chosen for this mission. Reluctantly, she becomes caretaker of a five-year-old boy. Together they are the best hope for humankind's survival. This is a story of exploration, discovery, adventure, and heroism with surprising twists and turns along the way. There's even a beautiful alien princess in the mix. But the heart of the story is family: its meaning, the universal need for it, and the sacrifices we are willing to make to preserve it.
