

Big Butts - 2012 (Taschen Weekly Tear-off Calendars)

Les fonds marins du Saint-Laurent recelent une richesse et une beauté extraordinaires, qui valent celles des mers du Sud. Cet ouvrage veut faire prendre conscience au lecteur - qu'il soit profane ou plongeur émerité - que le Saint-Laurent, ce merveilleux fleuve, n'est pas mort. Bien au contraire, il est riche d'une vie extraordinaire. Grâce à ses eaux froides, il nous permet de découvrir une faune arctique, à 250 km à l'est de Québec, dans des sites sécuritaires et d'accès facile. Peu de pays au monde peuvent se vanter d'avoir une chance semblable ! Toutes les espèces représentées peuvent être vues sur les sites de plongée du village des Escoumins (Québec) ou ont été photographiées les quelques 300 spécimens répertoriés dans ce guide qui est à la fois d'une grande beauté et d'une grande utilité. On connaît Pierre-Henry Fontaine, biologiste, pour ses livres et ses conférences sur les baleines. Mais ce retraité de l'enseignement est aussi un moniteur de plongée sous-marine. Un moniteur de plongée biologiste et passionné de vulgarisation comme lui ne pouvait manquer de nous faire partager ses découvertes !
