

Screen Your Stuff: A Fun, Funky Introduction to Silk-Screening Your Tees, Totes, Towels & More

Screen printing. What is it, anyway? Every craft fair features silk-screened T-shirts, totes, jackets, linens, emblazoned with cool artwork and clever sayings. But how did those images get there? And, more important, how can you create great items like those? Here's how! Screen Your Stuff is a fun, easy-on-the-eyes introduction to screen printing. Anyone can do it, honest! Authors Marion Levy and Veronique Georgelin, co-creators of the maison georgette line of printed linens, offer materials lists, recipes for mixing paint colors, step-by-steps for creating stencils, and a calm, reassuring tone. There are even design templates to photocopy and use! Yes! Get out those plain shirts, those plain sheets, those plain totes and turn them into something great. All you need is a little help from Screen Your Stuff.
