

The Diary of Pink Pearl, a Birds Eye View Vol. 3 of 3

Pink Pearls Parrot Rescue is officially a Federally Registered 501(c) non-profit organization. This is the continued sequence of Pearls true life story as she advances through her life, physically and psychologically, amongst the shared captivity with her human and estranged feathered flock. Within the gradual and steady transformation of her newly reformed and increasingly feathered body, she provides her newly adopted family an education about a promising, peaceful existence with the other parrot and animal species. Her trust and kinship grows exponentially on a daily basis as we allow this treasured and respected exotic animal to expand our simple, human mentality by giving her the much appreciated freedom to be a contributing member of our complex, leadfoot-on-the-ground existence on this Earth that we share in an attempt for a peaceful union.
