

Prehistoric Clock

Airship officer Verity Champlain is well respected by her crew. But after a vital mission nearly goes wrong, she is having second thoughts about her career. Lord Garrett Embrey is on the run. The Leviacrum Council, the secretive scientific body that holds sway over the Empire, executed his father and uncle and now they want him dead too. Professor Cecil Reardon is consumed by grief. Since his wife and son died he has been obsessed with his work, and now he is on the verge of an extraordinary scientific breakthrough: his machine is about to breach time itself, to undo fates cruel taking of his loved ones. But the time jump doesn't go according to plan, and part of London winds up millions of years in the past. Verity and her crew - Lord Embrey, Professor Reardon, and others stranded with them - must pull together to survive in a world ruled by dinosaurs... and to somehow get home.
